Race Truck Slang In a Legislature Race track slang was very prevalent

n Trenton during the late session. "Has the bell rung yet?" was the query of a statesman when he wanted to know if the house had been colled to order 'What's the row in the stand?' asked when there was a delay onges spoke of "weighing in" when they reported to the sergeant-at-aims, and when they were tardy in doing an errand they said they "got into a pocket" or "into the ruck.

"Where is the assembly chamber?" asked a mild old Quaker one day of a page. "Any of dem gates to the right," the boy replied. Doors were gates at the capitol,

"ls the house in session now?" inquired the Quaker.

"Naw dey'se only sprinklin the track." "What did thee say, my little man?"

"Dey'se sprinklin the track. De bell won't ring for half an hour yet." The Quaker "caught on" in a little while.—Cor. Philadelphia Record

Thackeray's inducate Over Nais. G. A. Sala recalls a meeting in his youth with the white haired Thackeray and the strong impression made upon him by the novelist's kindness. "I have not forgotten, I hope," he says, "one word of the wise and gentle counsel which Thackeray give me that night, and how he bade mo buckle my belt, tight,' 'hang out my sign' and ask him to come and take a chop with me. Some of his forecasts of what I might do if I tried proved to be almost of the nature of prophecy, and if I may borrow an unage from one of the crafts which I practiced in my youth I may say that my heart and mind were to me as he talked even of the nature of a plate of copper, and that, with the acutest of needles and the strongest of aquafortis, he etched and bit in on that plate a rule of work and study and conduct from which I have been enabled these many years past very rarely to deviate."

Method of Painless Filling."

OFFICE IN STEELE BUILDING,

- - COMMERCIAL ROW, RENO.

Absolutely painless without Chloroform, Gas, Ether or Cocaine.

Here are a Few Testimonials from Citizens Who have Aiready Tried the Method:

Dr. Porter—Dear Sir:—It affords me pleasure to say that the Hale method of painless filling opens a new era in the deutal world. After having several very sensitive cavities filled by you with gold and amalgam with gratifying results, I am of the opinion that the method is far beyond competition.

PATRICK HENRY.

Dr. Porter—Dear Siz:—In answer to your request for my candid opinion as to the Hale method of painless filling, I beg to state that I went to one of Dr. Leek's finest operators in San Francisco, and he filled several teeth for me with more or less pain; but when he came to the one you have just filled, it was simply impossible for me to endure the torture, consequently I asked him to stop, which he did. I thought I would be obliged to have the tooth extracted. I wish to state that in five minutes after you commenced to operate there was positively no pain; it telt just as if you were cutting a piece of wood. I am so highly pleased with the manner in which you filled the tooth that I feel it but just to express my appreciation of the method. It is all you claim for it. CHARLES HOPE.

Dr. Porter-Dear Sir:-I have had teeth extracted before by so-called painless methods, but you are the only operator who has extracted teeth for me without pain. Your method of extracting surpasses my most sanguine expec-MRS. H. PRENTISS.

Dr. Porter—Dean Sin:—It gives me great pleasure to state that I am thoroughly convinced of the excellence of your method. I expected to suffer dreadoughly convinced of the excennee of your method. I expected to sather dread that he was the cavity filled, as it was the worst one I had to have done. In about five minutes after you began to work on it I was satisfied that it would not hurt, which it did not during the entire operation. The tooth you extracted is one I have been dreading for eight years, and after consulting dentists in Secramento, who advised me not to have it removed, as the ordeal might prove injurious to my health and also disfigure my face. You extracted the tooth without a particle of pain, and I will have no further dread of the dental chair, providing I can obtain the Hale Method.

Dr. Porter-Dean Sir:-After using Hale's Painless Method as administered by you in the extraction of teeth, I can bear testimony that the results are satisfactory, and that teeth can be extracted painless by said method. Respectfully yours,
HENRY J. NEYLAND.

MARY E. FLECKENSTEIN.

Dr. Porter-Dear Sin:-I believe that the Hale Painless Method of filling is destined to lead the world in its especial field of usefullness. I am particularly impressed with it, owing to the fact that one does not lose consciousness while having teeth filled, and at the same time does not suffer a particle of pain. are at liberty to refer any one who contemplates having sensative teeth filled to me.

WHAT WE KNOW.

We know that our atmosphere holds the least amount of vapors when all re receding from the sun and from the earth and, reasoning from anology, we must believe that the cataclysmic loods occurred when our sun was arthest from the magnetic center round which it revolves

Therefore I place the periods of these great floods at about 26,000 years apart. The great year is 25.827 years—that is, the sun makes one revolution around ts magnetic center in that time—and it the end of that period the sun and solar system are at their farthest point from their great magnetic center and then carry their least amount of matter in their clouds, belts and rings.

A Dog That Stopped a Runaway. I had a dog named Chris. One day papa and mamma went out riding, and the dog went with them. As they went around a corner three miles from home, the carriage tipped over and threw them out, and then the carriage righted itself, the lines dragging under the carriage. The dog, who was under the carriage, pulled the lines with his teeth and tried to stop the horse from running and could not. Then he ran to the horse's head and kept jumping, nipping him in the nose, so he stopped running and walked. Every time he tried to run the dog kept on in that way for two miles nutil a policeman stopped him Ever after, so long as he lived, whenever the horse would start up suddenly, Chris would go right to the horse's head .-Cor. New York Recorder.

The Death of Mark Antony. Mark Antony gave the world for a woman's love, but found himself so poorly compensated by the exchange that in desperation at the approach of Octavius, and being informed that Cleopatra was endeavoring to make terms for herself by surrendering him, he stabbed himself with his dagger. Being revived, he received the message sent by Cleopatra that she desired to see him. He was carried to her place of refuge. Cleopatra and her maids raised him by ropes to the window of the tower where the fallen queen found her last home. He was lifted in and died in her arms. -St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
